WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 24, 1861. THE LATE JUDGE CLOPTON'S LI-BRARY.

The Library of the late Judge Clopton is offered for sale in the city of New York .-It constitutes one of the largest and most valuable private collections in the country. The following notice of it appears in a New

To the regular attendants of the various library sales held by Messrs. Bangs, Merwin & Co, the name of Clopton is very familiar. us often securing at what appeared very extravagant prices various tracts and pamphlets, for which said Clopton appeared to have an insatiable desire has been believed the name thus given was simply a soubriquet to disguise some well-known citizen, but we have new before us proof to the contrary. Onion, Parsley, Parsnip, Peas, Pepper, Pumpkin, The catalogue of the late Hon. John B. Clopton, of Virginia, comprises a greater assemblage of literature than perhaps that of any other sale that has ever taken place in this country. The speciality of Judge Clopton seems to have been the political history of this country, as shown in the ephemeral literature of the period. Among these tracts we notice three referring to Lord Howe, Aaron Burr, Sir Guy Carleton, as especially rare. One is entitled, "Remarks occasion- whom we have no acquaintance, will please for. ed by the late conduct of Mr. Washington as President of the United States;" anoth-stamps or gold, and we will forward them seed by er, "The Coffee Scuttle." Tracts by Edmund Burke, Thomas Paine, various orations on Washington; in all over three thousand separate tracts and pamphlets of great value. Such a collection should be kept intact for a state or city library. In addition to this department, the library is quite full of American history, biography and general literature. This sale is to be held by Bangs, Merwin & Co., on May 13th and following

MUST SHOW HIS COLORS!

Our good friend on the other side of the Atlantic,-Mr. John Bull,-if the London Times is an index-is in a quandary about the American troubles. Now he sides with the North, and now he sides with the South. He would like to recognize the Montgomery government, in order to punish the North for the Morrill Tariff, if it were not for doing violence to the Anti-Slavery sentiment at home,-and he would like to rap Jeff Davis, for clapping an export duty upon the cotton. which his (John's) half starving operatives in the manufacturing districts must have to keep down the political trouble which may follow, -but the rap is threatened only in the hope of coaxing Jeff, at the approaching meeting of the Montgomery Congress, to repeal that tax, and get his revenue in some other way.

The crisis is now come to a point which must compel John soon to throw off the mask, in other words, to "show his colors." He cannot play the part of the ass between the bundles of hay, without incurring the fate that the ass did. He must either torow his Exeter Hall Negro overboard, and recognize that Cotton Confederacy,-or break with the "Friends of Freedom" in the North. If he elect to the latter, the old gentleman Rhubarb; Donovan's Syrup of Bark; Laudanum; will be execrated as a consummate bypo- Paregorie: Syrup of Wild Cherry Bark, &c., &c. crite. If he elect to do the former, and loses his Cotton supply, bread riots, strikes, etc., among his hangry working people, will be certain to breed him a great deal of trouble. But, as we have said, he must now come up to the scratch,-and say whom he is for, and whom he is against. John must show his colors .- N. Y. Com.

The Syracusan philospher, 2,000 years ago, was so struck with the perfection of mathematical form in the crystals and othuttered the sublime thought, "God geome- for sale by trizes." The student of physical geography finds in that science equal evidence of the benevolent design and wondrous skill of the Creator, and is led irresistibly to the conclusion that He has planned the conformation fresh and genuine. For sale by of seas and continents, as well as the orbits of planets and the track of suns. Prof. Dormeus, of New York the eloquent lecturer on Chemistry and Physicial Science has beautifully developed this thought in one of his letters. He says:

"The physical geographer now claims that the particular arrangement of seas, continents, mountains, and rivers which the earth has received is the very best that could be given for the purpose to which the earth is destined. As the Divine wisdom is manifested in the order and adaptation of the parts of the human body, of animals and of plants, so there is an object in the particular shape the continents have been made to assume. Everything works in harmony with a Divine plan which we claim to be beginning to comprehend.

"Change the position of Asia and Europe and you would have ruin and death. Ireland now always green would have the climate of Labrador, Compare the British Isles, Norway and Sweden, with the corresponding latitudes upon our own coasts and we see the dreadful consequences. Take away the Andes, which arrest the rainclouds, and South America that most wonderfully watered continent, would be a desert. Take away the Rocky Mountains or change their direction to east and west, and we have our own fertile country ruine t. Elchief would ensue.

There is literally a face to nature as there pared fresh, by is a face to man. As we have our circulation of the blood, so there is the circulation of the earth's great heart of fire, the circulation of by ply of this valuable article for mending brothe waters and ventilation of the air. We have yet to consider these varied shades of nature in their relations to each other, and to man the animal life. But we are not to stop here. The physical geographer claims that the influences bearing upon the intellect of man can be explained by the peculiar arrangement of the earth's surface. We know the civilization has marched from East to West, from Asia to Europe, and even across the Atlantic to the New Worldgrowing and expanding in its course. We can see what has been developed in Asia and Europe, and may predict something for for sale by

MAYOR'S OFFICE. ALEXANDRIA, April 22, 1861. Parents, guardians, and those having the control of children and minors, are particularly requested to keep these under their charge out of the streets after night, and to watch over their conduct during the day, otherwise under the present state of affairs in our community the results to them may be dangerous.

This is advisory, and it is hoped that those to whom it is addressed, will see the necessity of this notice, and be governed by it.

Act. We take pleasure in proposing the name of Major J. RICHARDS SMOOT, as a suitable person to represent this County in the next House of Supply received and for sale by Delegates. As the rural districts hold the balance of power, and have never yet had a representative, simple justice requires that they should have the delegate, inasmuch as the city is claiming both State Senator and member of Congress.

MANY VOTERS. ap 17-3w

The name of H. O. CLAUGHTON is presented to the voters of this Senatorial District, as a gentleman eminently qualified to represent their interests in this department of the State government; and as Alexandria is entitled to the choice of a candidate at this time, his selection for this
